There were over two thousand people at the Andyville picnic last Saturday.
Prayer-meeting at the Elm-street Methodist church Thursday evening as usual.
The City Council at its regular meeting Monday night elected Alfred Oelze city judge pro tem.
The moonlight picnic on the hill last Tuesday night was largely attended, though it was not a very lively affair.
Next Friday will be the regular Communion Day for all the members of St. Rose Sacred Heart Society. Mass will be at 7:30 o'clock.
Roadmaster Hudson has painted the Stephensport depot a bright yellow with green trimmings. All the depots on the road are to be painted in the same style.
The river is all rising slowly, and many of the farmers have creek-bottom fields of corn and tobacco flooded. The worst is about over, however, if more rains do not add to the flood.
City Judge L. G. Gregory, who is in Louisville recovering from the effects of a surgical operation, was in good shape yesterday and resting easy, with no fever apparent. He will probably be at home in about a week.
Next Saturday morning at eight o'clock there will be catechism and instructions for the children of St. Rose Sunday School. All are expected to be present, especially those who are preparing for Holy Communion.
John Pate, Bion Walker, Arthur Garrett and Lase Newson, colored youths, got caught jumping on and off a moving train inside the city limits, and they are now doing much needed service on the streets by paying their fines.
G. E. Bott, the aged Editor of the Tell City Anzinger, a German paper, and the Journal, an English paper, was prostrated by the extreme heat last Thursday, from the effects of which he died next day. He was buried Sunday.
Charlie Hall umpired the ball game last Friday. A foul tip tapped him on the eye, and the local beef market has jumped up two cents on the pound because of the great quantities used to keep down discoloration. But still his face somewhat resembles a marble-top stand-table.
The following farmers have crops destroyed by the back-water: Jack Warfield, thirty acres of corn; Frank Fraiz, fifteen acres of corn; John Blythe, nearly all his tobacco and corn; James Meador, twenty acres of corn; Herman Allen, John Jennings, Julie Hardin and others, various amounts.
Julie Hardin came into town last Friday, and kept that Fisher's-corner gold-bug gang scattered to the four winds all the afternoon. A gold-bug usually exercises good judgement in selecting his timber when he debates the question. They don't any of them want to get tangled up with Julie Hardin.
Mrs. Harry Clay, colored, a bride of only a few days, got obstreperous last Monday morning over in front of her husband's barber shop, at east end of iron bridge, and addressed some complimentary (?) remarks to one of her sisters in town. Officer Hall "apprehended" her and she was charged one dollar and cost in the city court.
A frame cottage on the farm of J. C. Jones, near Rock Lick, was burned last Monday afternoon, July 27. It was occupied by G. W. Robertson, colored, but no one was at home at the time, and the origin of the fire is unknown. The negro lost a gold watch and about two hundred dollars in money and furniture. The house was worth $500.
Willis Clark drove into town late last Thursday afternoon and bought some groceries before the stores closed. These he placed in his buggy, hitched his horse and went to the moonlight picnic on the hill. When he returned about nine o'clock his horse and buggy were gone and could not be found in the city. Early next morning he hired a house and went out home, and there, standing at his gate, he found his turn-out perfectly safe. Hitch-rein and lines were done up nicely, and the groceries were not molested. He thinks, which is probably the fact, that some fellow wanted to take his girl out riding and borrowed the rig for a few hours, then turned it loose, and the horse went home.

French's New Sensation, No. 1, Mrs. Callie French, will be at the wheel tonight.

The World's Fair Tests showed no baking powder so pure or so great in leavening power as the Royal.

L. N. &amp; W. TIME TABLE.

Free silver may benefit us but there is one thing to a dead moral certainty, if you use Bess Blood and Bone Fertilizer for wheat, you can get either you want, gold or silver—C. W. Moorman, Glendale; A. A. Richardson, Garfield; Short & Haynes, Cloverport.
S. D. Bradshaw and Miss Lou Robbins, of Sample, were married at the bride's residence last night. Mr. Bradshaw is from Oklahoma, and is one of the original settlers, who made a rush for a quarter section of land there in 1893. He will make Oklahoma his future residence.

Houston DeHaven thinks that the farmers in this county should not sow any tobacco seed next year. He says the farmers in several counties in the state have gone into an agreement of this kind, and he thinks the farmers of this county should do likewise. He believes that if they will skip a year and not raise a plant, the price of the weed will materially advance.
The Bible Mission Advocate, edited by Rev. S. K. Breeding, of Leitchfield, has reached us. It is published weekly, and is well worth the very low subscription price 50c a year, asked. The paper should have a number of subscribers in this vicinity among those who remember Bro. Breeding so kindly. We commend the paper to church people as it contains many things that will interest them in their homes.
Albert Orham, of the Tar Springs, was in the city last Monday. Mr. Orham has recently become the proprietor of this famous resort and has occasions to meet and entertain many prominent guests. He is a free silver man and endeavors to hold his own when tackled on the subject. He said that this week he had had several rounds with some goldbugs from Cloverport, viz. Capt. Wm. Vest, Maj. Amel Oelze, and Dr. George Short.
FOUND DEAD.
Alex Furrow, of This County, Meets a Mysterious Death Near Bird's Point, Missouri.
Last Thursday, Charles Furrow received a telegram from Bird's Point, Mo., conveying the information that his brother, Alex Furrow, had been found dead by the roadside near that place. Yesterday he received the following letter from Dr. J. H. (Jack) White, a former Cloverport boy, which gives a little more information:
CHARLOTTE, Mo., July 31, 1896.—MR. CHAS. FURROW, CLOVERPORT, KY.—Friend Charles: The news has just reached me that your brother, Alex, was found last night about 10 o'clock by the road side, about ten or twelve miles from here, near Bird's Point. Evidently he was thrown from his wagon. The coroner has just gone to hold the inquest, and I will write you to-morrow, as I am going to Cairo this evening.
Alex was in my office last week to see me, and he said he had been to Texas and was on his way home to work on a farm with you. We had quite a long talk. He was with Bill Dourag.
I extend to you my sincere sympathy, as you know I have had three deaths in my family since I saw you.
Your friend,
J. H. WHITE.
Alex Furrow left Cloverport about the 10th of last February and went to Texas. There he raised a crop of twenty acres of corn, and had six acres of cotton in cultivation. It is supposed that he sold his crop and had started home, as he is intimated in a letter to his brother a few weeks ago he would do. He has a sister-in-law at Bird's Point, Mo., and it is supposed that he stopped there to see her, when he met his death as stated above.
The coroner's jury and further investigations may shed more light on the subject.
GUSTON.
Mr. and Mrs. Warland Carter are very low at this writing of typhoid fever.
Emmett Shacklett, of Louisville, is visiting his sister Mrs. J. T. Cundiff.

Miss Eva Carrigan returned home last week after spending several pleasant weeks with friends and relatives near Niagara Falls.
Miss Ella Hendrick, of Long Branch; Mrs. S. F. Davis, of Cape Guard, Mo., spent several days last week at Stony Point, the guests of their cousin, Miss Rena Smith.
Miss Rena Smith entertained her many friends Thursday evening, July 30th in honor of her eighteenth birthday. Refreshments were served at eleven o'clock, Miss Maud Adkisson, and others favored us with some beautiful music. These present from a distance were: Miss Alma Hall and Emmett Shacklett, Louisville; Miss Ella Hendrick, Long Branch; Mrs. S. T. Davis, Cape Guard, Mo.; Mr. Matthews, Owensboro; Jesse Taylor, Hardinsburg.
Judge Board held his regular monthly police court last Monday. A suit over the ownership of some tobacco, between W. C. Moorman, of Glendale; and Mr. Mattingly, of Kirk, was decided in favor of Mr. Moorman.
Citizen—You say you were put in jail here for borrowing money.
Prisoner—Yes sir.
Citizen—How's that?
Prisoner—I knocked the fellow down three times before he would lend it to me.

You can't down a silver bug. Doesn't matter about the weather, this thing has to be probed to the bottom. So it was last week with the thermometer standing at 98 in the shade the 16-to-1 man was there ready for business all the same.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

Why McKinley is Silent.
The reason of McKinley's silence is not far to seek. He dare not face the following facts:
First—McKinley voted to suspend the rules and pass a free-silver bill in 1877.
Second—In 1878 he voted for the Bland Silver Dollar bill and supported it, and did much to accomplish its passage against the veto of president Hayes.
Third—In 1888, when chairman of the platform committee of the Republican national convention, he reported resolutions denouncing "the policy of the Democratic administration in its efforts to demoralize silver."
Fourth—In 1890, when leader of the house he advocated the passage of the Sherman Silver-purchase law and declared: "I want the double standard."
"N. S. I." is the wonder of the 19th century.
